Policy-making in the European Union: D. Dunlop 2013-03-21. The book is an introductory paradigm to police in a number of political systems in Europe in the process of conceptualizing international policing as part of a broader vision of peace and development initiatives. Author: D. Dunlop, Charles T. Hunt, and Jude Carp-Bills provide an analysis of the complex problems in the field, and consequently offer a compelling argument for a new, post-ideological approach.

Community Policing in Indigenous Communities: Michael E. Luna-Firebaugh 2003-04 Indigenous communities are typically those that challenge the laws of the nation states of which they have become often very reluctantly a part. Around the world, community policing has emerged in many of these regions as a product of their unique environments and cultures. Through a series of case studies, Community Policing in Indigenous Communities explores the challenges and opportunities of this approach.
